CABLE NEWS IN BRIEF

COMMITTEE'S EFFORTS END IN FAILURE

Geneva, Apr. 17.
The Committee of Thirteen of the League of Nations has decided that conciliation in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute has failed.

Recognising this failure, the Committee will return its mandate to the League Council.

Senor Salvador de Madariaga, the chairman, presents his report to the Committee of Thirteen tomorrow and will address the League Council at 10.30 a.m. Monday.

It is expected the Council meeting will be one of extreme gravity.

The report of M. Vasconcellos on the working of the League's sanctions against Italy will also be considered by the Council.

Apparently the decision to convene the Committee of Eighteen will be left with the Council.

The calling of this Committee will probably be postponed until after the French elections.—

ETHIOPIA INSISTS ON LEAGUE RIGHTS

Addis Ababa, Apr. 17.
A rebuke to the League of Nations powers for their delay in enforcing effective sanctions and a demand for immediate measures to end the Italian war of aggression, are contained in a note from Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia delivered to Geneva to-day.

The note declares that Ethiopia has vainly waited for seven months for measures to end the aggressive war against her, and she feels she now has the right to ask if the principle of collective security is a dead letter.

Ethiopia, states the Emperor's note, is still resolved to expel the aggressor from her territory and invoke firmly and formally all her League rights.—

DIFFICULTIES IN WAY OF PEACE

Rome, Apr. 17.
Three difficulties stand in the way of peace, and the first of them is the stopping of hostilities.

It is pointed out here that it would be virtually impossible to call a halt in such a war of movement until the winning side had reached strategic positions.

Secondly, there is no Ethiopian authority with which the Italians could negotiate a peace, since the Emperor has disappeared, the Italians maintain.

Thirdly, and finally, Italy cannot negotiate under the threat of sanctions.—

RIOT IN POLAND

Warsaw, Apr. 17.

A serious riot occurred last night between Communists and police at the funeral of an unemployed labourer who was killed in a minor affray two days ago.

The authorities, fearing disturbances, ordered the burial to take place at midnight, and secretly, but the Communists discovered the plan and rallied hundreds of their numbers for an attack on the police who guarded the funeral procession.

The Communists had no quarrel with the people in the funeral procession. Their enemies were the police, and they fought them furiously.

Trams were overturned and used as barricades and buildings were set fire and looted by the rioters. Up to the present, although the facts are difficult to ascertain, there have been 800 arrests.

Casualties are reported as twelve killed and 300 injured, many of them seriously.—

THE BOMBING AFFAIR

White Paper Issued

London, April 17.

Correspondence between the United Kingdom and Italian Governments regarding the bombing of British Red Cross in Ethiopia is published as a White Paper and comprises an Italian “Aide memoire” with a covering letter from Signor Suvich to the British Ambassador, dated April 10, from Sir Eric Drummond.

The Italian Aide Memoire, basing itself on reports from Marshal Badoglio, seeks to identify the bombed British Ambulance unit with an encampment from which it alleges reconnoitering Italian aircraft were fired upon on March 3 and 4, after which, upon the latter date, it is admitted they proceeded to bombard the camp. It is claimed dense smoke which arose confirmed the suspected existence of a munition dump in the camp.

The Italian Government accordingly protests energetically “against most grave, repeated and flagrant violations of fundamental principles of the Geneva Convention.”

RESULT OF ENQUIRY

The British note states His Majesty's Government after carefully considering the above statements and comparing them with reports furnished by the medical officer in charge of the ambulance “is unable to accept the Italian version of the facts as having any relation to what actually occurred.”

The note recites, the warnings of the presence of the British unit and its itinerary on the northern front, communicated to the Italian precautions taken by the medical officer in charge to maintain the unit at a proper distance from the Ethiopian military encampment and to display Red Cross emblems clearly, and repeats the account furnished by Dr. Melly of the deliberate bombing of his lorries on March 3 and of a camp on March 4.

On the second occasion four patients were killed, several wounded and such serious material damage was done that the ambulance has since had to be withdrawn for reorganisation and re-equipment.

EXPLANATION REJECTED

The note rejects the attempt of the Italian Government to justify the attack under Article 7 of the Red Cross Convention; first, because the facts put forward in justification of the attack—and the Italian Government, it is emphasised, does not dispute the attack—are incorrect; and secondly because even if they were correct they would not, in the view of His Majesty's Government, constitute any value as legal defence for the action of the Italian air force. The note makes a request for categorical assurance that clear and definite instructions be issued to the Italian military authorities in Ethiopia to prevent a repetition of attacks on British Red Cross units and in conclusion reserves the right of His Majesty's Government at the appropriate time and in the appropriate manner to claim compensation for heavy material losses suffered by the British Ambulance Service in Ethiopia.—

ADDIS ABABA CAPTURE

Italian Advance Prepared

Dessie, Apr. 17.
An almost immediate advance towards Addis Ababa is envisaged because of the hurried arrangements here for the arrival of the Italian general staff.

To-day an Eritrean Army Corps artillery arrived, accompanied by a column of over 100 motor lorries. Once the Italian advance towards Addis Ababa commences it is predicted the Ethiopian capital will be reached in three days.

Engineers have been active for the past few days and a powerful radio station has already been erected and the town is now linked up with telephones between all army points.

Scouting planes, flying south on the road to Addis Ababa, report the presence of no troops, neither any concentration nor planned resistance. Abandoned lorries and

BRITISH NOTES TO ITALY

Bombing Of Red Cross Units

Geneva, Apr. 17.

A strongly worded note has been delivered by the British Ambassador at Rome, Sir Eric Drummond, to the Italian Government, dealing with the numerous air attacks upon British Red Cross Ambulance units in Ethiopia. The text of the note was disclosed here to-day.

The communication deals particularly with the attacks on the British unit at Quorom on four successive days in March.

Sir Eric absolutely denied the Italian allegation that the war planes bombed the ambulance as a reprisal against Red Cross ambulance workers who allegedly fired on Italian bombing planes.

The note says that the British Government, after a full investigation, cannot accept the Italian version of the facts, and declares that the principal medical officer's report leaves no doubt regarding the deliberateness of the attacks.

The British Government regards the bombing as a violation of the International Red Cross convention and now demands that the Italian Government give categorical assurance that clear and definite instructions shall be issued to the Air Force in East Africa that henceforth it shall exercise the utmost care not to attack British Red Cross hospitals.

The British Government also reserves the right to demand compensation for the damage caused by these deliberate attacks.—

HOW RANGERS WON

Scottish Cup Final Described

London, Apr. 18.

A crowd of 100,000 saw Glasgow Rangers beat Third Lanark by a goal scored by McPhail in the second minute of the game at Hampden Park on Saturday afternoon under perfect weather conditions. This represented the Rangers' third win in succession and their sixth success in the past 10 years.

Winning the toss, the Rangers opened strongly, and after two minutes McPhail accepted a pass from Venters and dashed through the defence to beat Muir with ease from five yards. Third Lanark replied in a spirited manner, McInnes twice testing Dawson with rasping drives. Smith then netted, only to be ruled offside.

Play was very even for long spells, but a cross-wind proved troublesome and ball control was consequently very difficult. The Rangers' defence was at its best, but later play became scrappy, half-time arriving with no addition to the score.

After the interval the Rangers' goal play was of a poor quality, numerous free kicks being awarded for pushing and holding with the crowd venting its disapproval. The Rangers were more or less on the defensive throughout this period, but they managed to hold out till the final whistle sounded to win by the only goal scored.

Rangers: Dawson; Gray and Cheyne; Melkielejohn, Simpson and Brown; Fiddes, Venters, Smith, McPhail and Turnbull.

Third Lanark: Muir, Carabine and Hamilton; Blair, Denmark and McInnes; Howe, Gallagher, Hay Kennedy and Kinnaird.—

DARDANELLES DEFENCES

Unilateral Action By Turkey?

Ankara, Apr. 17.

A semi-official Turkish news agency declares the report, in French quarters, that Turkish troops have entered the demilitarised zone of the Dardanelles, is baseless.

Moreover, the Cabinet, which is reported to have decided to occupy the zone in defiance of treaty, held no meeting this week, as alleged.—
Reuter.

COUNCIL DECISION

Paris, Apr. 17.

Reports from Stamboul state that, usually well-informed sources at Ankara say the Turkish Government has decided to occupy the demilitarised Straits Zone with troops and that the Turkish Army entered the forbidden zone yesterday evening.

The decision was reportedly taken at a meeting of the Council of Ministers on April 15, at which Kemal Ataturk presided.—
Reuter.

BRITISH REPLY

London, Apr. 17.

The British Government, replying to the Turkish request for permission to re-fortify the Dardanelles, stated that Britain is prepared to enter into discussions through the proper channels and that the Dominion Governments will also be invited to participate in any conversations in this matter.

The note adds that the British Government approves Turkey's approach to the question.

There is no confirmation in London of the Paris report that the Turkish army had already started occupation of the demilitarised zone at the Dardanelles.—
Reuter's Bulletin Service.

SOVIET ATTITUDE

Moscow, Apr. 17.

The Russian Government has informed Turkey of its readiness to participate in negotiations to bring the status of the Straits Zone into conformity with interests of Turkish security. A Russian note to this effect points out the Soviet has always been of the opinion that Turkish sovereignty in this zone was indispensable to the maintenance of peace there.—

GREEK DEMAND FOR FORTIFICATIONS

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Athens, April 17

All sections of the Greek press devote considerable space to the question of the Dardanelles, and demand the fortification of the Greek Islands, Samos, Samothrace and Lemnos, asserting that Turkey would not object, seeing that Greece is a friendly power, and would thus ensure the safety of Turkey. It is furthermore stated that Turkey would even wish Greece to fortify, besides these islands, also Mytilene and Cimonos. In other words, Turkey, so the Greek press states, would approve of a strong Greece.

The Bulgarian aspirations to territorial access to the Aegean Sea are characterised by the Greek press as “inacceptable.” Greece has always been prepared to grant Bulgaria an economic outlet at Salonika which, according to the Greek view, complies with the Treaty of Neuilly.—

DON ROBERTO'S LAST HOME

London, April 2.
The Lake of Menzies, where Mr. R. B. Cunningham-Graham is to be buried, is the only "lake" on the map of Scotland.

It is also one of the historic beauty spots of that country. The lake itself is about one and a half miles long by a mile broad, and has three islands.

On the largest, Inchmahome, are the beautiful ruins of an Augustine Priory. It was here that Mary Queen of Scots was sent as a child of five for safety after Scotland's defeat at the battle of Pinkie.

The little garden, said to have been made by her and called "Queen Mary's Bower," is still carefully kept. The island was Mr. Cunningham-Graham's property.

MOTHER!
YOU CAN END
HER MISERY

There's no need for your girl to suffer as she does. Periodical natural functions need not bring pain and discomfort with them. Doctors say it is a lack of minerals which causes the suffering. And Kalzana quickly remedies that deficiency, strengthens the blood cells... ensures that the body carries out its periodic functions without pain or undue strain on the growing system. So give your girl Kalzana now and see how it makes her happy and healthy at all times.

Take Kalzana yourself, too. It wonderfully improves your general health, tones up your nervous system, and strengthens your teeth against decay.

PHYSICIANS
endorse
KALZANA

"Kalzana acts efficiently in promoting the growth of strong bones and healthy teeth and in stimulating the glands with internal secretions and the blood-forming organs."

"LAST OF THE PAGANS"

Typhoons and temperament, sun showers and "underses black widows" were a few of the multitude of complications that went into filming an idyllic romance of the South Seas, in the five months' location trip of Director Richard Thorpe and his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production unit, filming "Last of the Pagans," drama of Polynesian native life, which comes on Wednesday to the King's Theatre.

Typhoons wrecked sets built on a coral atoll for the picture. One of them, however, was actually filmed in the process, providing one of the

"ROSE MARIE"
In a production sweeping with song and scented with romance, Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, those celebrated co-stars of "Naughty Marietta," came to the screen of the King's and Alhambra Theatres in the well-known characters of the light opera, "Rose Marie."

Under their magic spell the full beauty of "The Indian Love Call," "Rose Marie, I Love You," "Song of the Mounties," and other classics from the Herbert Stothart-Rudolf Friml score, live again.

"Rose Marie" is the story of a Canadian grand opera singer who travels incognito into the backwoods regions in search of her brother a criminal from justice. Also searching for the brother is Sergeant Bruce, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. They meet and fall in love, until she realizes the mission of the other. The crashing climax and poignant ending of the story will be remembered long after most pictures are forgotten.

TWO FOR TONIGHT

For a scene in Paramount's romantic comedy, "Two for Tonight," featuring Bing Crosby and Joan Bennett, which is the next attraction at the Queen's Theatre, Crosby had to don a full dress suit. He balked at the collar and tie offered him. The next day Miss Bennett, who is Gene Markey in private life, brought one of her husband's collars and ties, and Bing wore them.

"Two for Tonight" is a brisk fast moving comedy, plentifully supplied with music, songs and romance, of an ambitious young crooner who accidentally becomes a play-right and becomes involved with a theatrical producer, his stage girl friend, and his secretary in a series of lively incidents that become more and more hilariously complicated.

Going in search of romance and adventure to get material for his play, the singer starts a seltzer water battle in a night club, lands in jail, rehearses a love scene with the wrong girl which makes the right girl walk out on him.

biggest thrills in the production. Palm trees were hurled through the walls of buildings by the force of the wind.

No less irresistible than the typhoon, Director Thorpe reports, was native temperament.

BROADWAY HOSTESS

A sparkling comedy drama, filled with rollicking laughter, delightful romance, tinkling music, gigantic spectacles and spiced with thrills, ends to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

This new First National film musical, which is enacted by an all star cast bears the title of "Broadway Hostess." A story of New York night life in its liveliest aspects. The picture introduces a new and beautiful singing star to the screen in the person of Wini Shaw, the "Lady in Red" of the famous picture "In Caliente."

She plays the role of a small town girl who goes to the big city to make good and has a rough time of it until Lyle Talbot, a big shot gambler, takes her under his wing and makes her the toast of the town.

Sharing singing honours with Miss Shaw is Phil Regan, Allen Jenkins provides much of the comedy as the body-guard of the gambler.

While the picture contains all the elements of a spectacle as well as those of a musical. It is also a drama and there is tragedy and pathos as well as laughter, music and romance.

In the cast are Genevieve Tobin, Spring Byington, Marie Wilson, Joseph King, Donald Ross, Frank Dawson and Harry Seymour.

E252 FOR PORTRAIT OF JAMES WATT

Bought For Engineers

London, March 28.

Two famous Scots—and a painter who came to be called the Vandyck of Sweden—were linked together in a picture sale at Christie's yesterday.

The Scots were James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, and John Rennie, who designed Waterloo Bridge.

In 1792 the Stockholm artist, C. F. von Breda, who had studied under Sir Joshua Reynolds, painted two portraits of Watt, one of which is in the National Portrait Gallery.

The second was given to Rennie, who, at the age of 23, had been discerned by Watt as a very promising, mechanical engineer. Indeed, Rennie was taken into Watt's machine-making business.

This latter portrait turned up at Christie's from an anonymous source. On account of its Swedish interest, a commission was sent from Stockholm to buy it.

It was placed in the hands of Mr. Edward Smith, but was not sufficient, as a private collector, Mr. Gresley, won the portrait at 240 guineas.

It has been bought for the Institute of Mechanical Engineers, and will hang in their hall at Storey's Gate, Westminster.

The portrait is dated 1792, when Watt was 56.

A man who wanted to book seats for a play was talking on the telephone. "Can I get a box for two to-night?" he asked.

"We don't have boxes for two, sir," answered a startled voice at the other end.

"Isn't that the theatre?" asked the caller.

"No, this is the undertaker's," came the reply.

THE PROBLEM OF NUTRITION

Advancement Made.

London, April 1.

The Medical Research Council wisely begins its report for 1934-5, which is now published, with some reflections on the fashionable subject of nutrition. It reminds us of the great advances that have been made in the past few years in the science of nutrition and ends with a "simple statement of the broad requirements" of a good diet.

Much more milk ("safe" milk, butter, eggs (especially egg-yolk), and vegetables (especially green vegetables) ought to be consumed. In particular, milk ought to be the chief drink for children, and especially in the first years, while bread and other cereals should in these early years be greatly reduced.

Such advice, one might have thought, would already be common property among intelligent mothers and housewives. The real problem, would seem rather to be how to provide those foods at a price that the average consumer can afford. In a recent speech, Sir John Orr, who is a leading authority on the subject, stated that an investigation had shown that the diets of the poorer classes were deficient in the substances required for health, and that the diseases which are prevalent in the poorer half of the

SIR MAURICE JENKS ROBBED

London, Apr. 1.

Thefts from the homes of Sir Maurice Jenks, a former Lord Mayor of London, and of Mr. Bertlam Feldman, the music publisher, were mentioned at Marylebone yesterday in housebreaking charges against Edward Matthews, 22, with no employment and no fixed home.

It was stated that from Sir Maurice's house in Grove End-road, N.W., decorations and Mintonic Jewels worth £124 were taken, and from that Mr. Feldman, in Finchley-road, whisky, cigarettes, puddings, tea, eggs, cheese and sugar. Matthews also pleaded guilty to thefts from two other houses in the district.

Matthews was committed for trial.

population are of the kind that would be expected because of those deficiencies. But what we need to know is whether working-class diets are inadequately balanced through lack of knowledge or lack of money. If, as Sir John Orr has also said, 4,500,000 persons can spend only 4s. a week on food, the answer seems plainly to be lack of money. When eggs are twopence, each and milk three-pence-halfpenny a pint in winter how can the poor family hope to obtain proper diets? If the prices of essential foodstuffs came down to the Free Trade level, or working-class incomes rose, the problem might conceivably solve itself.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY

Man Who Spent His All

Li Chik-sang and Ho Sing Sing appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour on Saturday at the Central Magistracy charged with assault with intent to rob.

Det. Serg. Guild stating the case for the prosecution said that the complainant, Lee Ying, was a prostitute, living on the second floor of No. 15 Aberdeen Street. At 3 a.m. on the morning of April 16, the first defendant came and called to the complainant saying that there was a man in the street who wished to engage her. Lee Ying went down the stairs with her amah and then Li Chik-sang took them to No. 18 Zeland Street. They entered the house and climbed to the second floor. It was very dark and so Li said that he would go downstairs and bring a torch.

When he returned he was accompanied by Ho Sing when they both attacked the women, Li taking Lee Ying by the throat and attempted to snatch her rings. They were unsuccessful in this attempt as they were afraid of attracting attention by the noise. Li Chik-sang was arrested by an Indian constable.

In reply to a phone message from No. 16, Zeland Street which stated that there was a burglar on the floor, a man was arrested and he was subsequently identified as Ho Sing.

Li Chik-sang stated that he had previously engaged Lee Ying and that she had extorted money from him. Recently he had spent all his money and he had tried to borrow money from her and had promised to repay her. This request she had refused.

This story was corroborated by that of the second defendant.

Det. Serg. Guild asked His Worship to take a serious view of the case. Both prisoners had clear records.

Mr. Balfour sentenced them to six months' hard labour each.

CONSPIRACY TO DEFEAT JUSTICE

Another Mui Tsai Problem

Man Yee (65), a married woman, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour on Saturday at the Central Magistracy charged with participation in a conspiracy to defeat the course of public justice.

Inspector Andrews, S.C.A., appeared for the prosecution and applied for one week's remand. The hearing was set for Tuesday April 22.

The charge was, that on March 1, Man Yee conspired with Au Ping to secure the cancellation of the status of a registered mul tsai. Au Kan Chung, by falsely representing that Au Ping was the natural aunt of the mul tsai and intended to restore her to her natural father.

Inspector Andrews said that this aunt was never found and that later in the month the mul tsai was found to be working in Wa-chai for the third concubine of the defendant's husband.

BROKE HIS BOND

Cheung Choi (21), unemployed, charged with the larceny of six pairs of female trousers, one clock and one pocket watch, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield on Saturday morning at the Central Magistracy. The articles were the property of Choi Wan, amah, and Cheung Wo, motor car driver of No. 32, Fly Dragon Terrace. The theft occurred on April 17 and the value of the articles was placed at $21.

Act. Sub-Inspector Madgwick appeared for the prosecution and stated that the defendant was actually seen leaving No. 32, Fly Dragon Terrace. He was stopped by Cheung Wo and upon being searched the clock and watch were found in his possession. Defendant had a previous conviction, and was under a previous bond of $50 for the theft of a green woollen jacket.

He was sentenced to forfeit his previous bond and to serve one month's hard labour in addition to six weeks on the present charge. The sentences to run concurrently.

Around the Courts

VAGRANTS CHARGED

Kenneth Smith (21), unemployed and Joseph Borishynski (23), also unemployed both appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour on Saturday at the Central Magistracy charged with vagrancy in the Colony.

Det. Serg. Russell appeared for the prosecution and stated that both defendants are British subjects from Canada. They had both arrived in the Colony on the 23rd of last month seeking employment. Their repatriation had been arranged for and they were supposed to have sailed on Friday.

Mr. Balfour committed them both to the House of Detention.

BANISHEE

Ho Kwal (Xing) (55), a returned banishee appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy on Saturday charged with returning from banishment and was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION

For the unlawful possession of three branches of tree wood, weighing in all about thirty catties, Pang Tak appeared before Mr. A. F. Balfour on Saturday and was charged. He was arrested in Robinson Road near Peel Street. Defendant was under a previous bond of $20 which was forfeited. He was sentenced to three weeks in gaol.

SUIT CASE THEFT

Wong Chau (37), unemployed charged with the larceny of one leather suitcase containing linen clothing from No. 145, Hollywood Road, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour on Saturday and was sentenced to one month's hard labour. The defendant was arrested by a District Watchman in the act of pawing the article. Defendant admitted stealing the suitcase from No. 145, Hollywood Road.

ANOTHER REMAND GRANTED

In Corruption Charge Case

Facing charges of having attempted to bribe members of the Chinese staff of the Revenue Department, Albert Randall, (27), unemployed was together with seven Chinese brought before Mr. W. Schofield again on Saturday at the Central Magistracy on remand. The charge, it will be recalled, was that Randall, together with these seven Chinese conspired to bribe Revenue Officer Mo Kang and other Revenue officers with intent to influence them from prosecuting or from giving information which might lead to the prosecution of certain offenders under the Opium Ordinance.

The Chinese defendants were, 1. Yick (32), shopkeeper, Leung Yau (42), unemployed, Ho Loi (27), salesman, Ho Shun (29), unemployed, Li Kwai-yick (40) unemployed, Kwan Sing (3) unemployed and Ngan Cheong (29) unemployed.

Mr. T. Murphy, Assistant Director of Criminal Intelligence had stated at the previous hearing that on the surface it appeared to be a gigantic attempt to bribe the entire Chinese staff of the Department.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay appeared for Randall and Mr. W. Brown, for the other defendants.

The case was again remanded and Mr. Brown asked His Worship if he would consider a reduction of bail for his clients as they had been in gaol for three weeks. Their bail was fixed at $1,500 for the second and third defendant and at $500 for the others.

Randall will be recalled was allowed bail of $7,000. Mr. Murphy said that he regretted having to oppose the application as he thought that the present bail was reasonable and that it was imperative that the defendants should be present at their trial.

The case was formally remanded for one week.

ELECTRICAL FITTINGS

Unemployed Gaoled For Thefts

Facing two charges of larceny, Cheung Shing, 28, unemployed appeared before Mr. W. Schofield on Saturday at the Central Magistracy. The charges were (a) that he did rip, sever or break three automobile pump switches on April 15 and did steal the same from Nos. 55, 69 and 71 Chun Yuen Street, and (b) a similar charge on April 16, from Nos. 111 to 131 (11 houses in all).

The total value of the switches were $38.50. The complainants being Fok Cheung, electrician and Wong Kam, fitter.

Act. Sub-Inspector Madgwick for the prosecution said that on the 16th instant the defendant went on to the roof of Chun Yuen Street. He admitted to stealing the switches and to the breaking of them, selling the broken switches as old brass for the sum of $1.00 each. The value of each switch was $3.50.

On charge (a) defendant was

WAR ON A SCOURGE

Good Work Done

London, Apr. 1. "If leprosy were as prevalent in Europe now as it was in the fifteenth century, funds would pour in," said Sir Edward Galt at a meeting of the British Empire Leprosy Relief Association. The difficulty is to bring home to this country the misery and havoc still caused in many parts of the Empire by a disease whose ravages in England are now recalled only by the curious holes in the walls of some old churches through which the afflicted were allowed to witness the service. Yet imagination should need little stimulus when it realised that there are at least two million lepers under the government of the British Crown and that in Nigeria alone there are some 200,000, of whom only one in forty can at present receive treatment. Nor is there the old excuse for apathy that leprosy is an incurable affliction for which nothing can be done except to segregate the victims. One of the most heartening fruits of research in our time has been that resulting from the work of Sir Leonard Rogers and others on the cure of leprosy in its early stages by the injection of various drugs. A scourge that has been a terror to one or other part of the world since the dawn of history is now seen to be capable in time of extermination if funds and workers are forthcoming. Already in the twelve years of its life the association has done bravely, but it has also made the melancholy discovery that the incidence of disease is six or seven times greater than it was thought to be when the work began. Nothing but a widespread campaign for educating as well as treating the people among whom leprosy is rife and for providing facilities for segregating infectious cases can make headway. For that more money and more service are needed, and with the knowledge that we have now the power to alleviate and ultimately to end the scourge, their provision is an imperial responsibility that cannot be shirked.

FUTURE ALSO
If Mr. Eden's statement had ended there it would have been an incomplete statement of the British attitude. He rightly went on to show that the Government are not concerned only with the past and the present, but have to consider the future also. It is not enough to reprobate and deplore the action of Germany in destroying what has hitherto served as one of the main pillars of European peace. The edifice must be repaired and strengthened—must indeed be rebuilt. It is in that spirit, said Mr. Eden, that the Government would approach the German Chancellor, examining them "clear-sightedly and objectively with a view to finding out to what extent they represent the means by which the shaken structure of peace can again be strengthened."

In pursuing this dual objective the Government will have the full support of public opinion. No one in England condones or excuses the sudden, but deliberate, blow which Germany has struck at the sanctity of treaties. There are circumstances in the present case, as is clear from Mr. Eden's careful narrative, which make the offence particularly objectionable. Except for a small sprinkling of isolationists, all parties in this country stand for the rule of law and the faithful observance of international obligations. But more of us are convinced also that, as Mr. Eden put it, in the present grave condition of international affairs no opportunity must be missed which offers any hope of amelioration.

THE BRITISH ATTITUDE

Policy Defined

London, April 1.

Any uncertainty which may have existed as to the attitude of the British Government towards the crisis provoked by Herr Hitler must have been dispelled by Mr. Eden's admirable statement in the House of Commons. The one-sided repudiation of obligations freely assumed by the German Government, he said at once, has both complicated and aggravated the international situation. Moreover the abrogation of the Locarno Treaty and the occupation of the demilitarized zone have profoundly shaken confidence in any future engagement into which the German Government may enter. He noted the pacific assurances of the German Memorandum and the offer to negotiate pacts of non-aggression with France and Belgium. He was thankful to say that he saw no reason to suppose that the German action implied any threat of hostilities; but the British Government thought it necessary to say plainly that, should there be any actual attack upon France or Belgium, they would regard themselves as bound in honour to come to the assistance of the country attacked, as provided in the treaty which Germany has repudiated. This unambiguous assurance should have its effect in allaying the fears that have been excited, and in promoting a dispassionate examination of the new situation. The French and Belgian Governments, with the full knowledge and agreement of the British Government, have asked that the Council of the League of Nations should be summoned as soon as possible to determine its future course. No decision, of course, can be taken in advance of that meeting, which is expected to be on Friday; but there is to be an exchange of views in Paris to-day between Mr. Eden and Lord Halifax, representing Great Britain and representatives of the other non-German signatories of the treaty.

POINT BROUGHT OUT
This point was brought out clearly and with manifest feeling by Mr. Baldwin in the debate upon defence which followed Mr. Eden's statement. Defence and foreign policy, as he said are so closely linked that it is impossible to discuss one without reference to the other. Mr. Baldwin had already described the efforts made by the British Government to secure disarmament, and how they came to nothing through the failure to reconcile the French claim to security with the German claim to equality. In a moving peroration he declared that there could never be permanent peace in Europe so long as that secular suspicion persists between the two countries. Time after time hopes of a settlement have been thwarted, sometimes by France missing an opportunity to accept an offer, sometimes by Germany shocking our consciences and irritating French susceptibilities. To-day, he said, it looked as if these old influences were reasserting themselves; the only hope lay in the endeavour to achieve a triple friendship. There is something also to be added. In spite of all this mutual fear and mistrust, easily inflamed into unreasonable mutual hostility, the millions of ordinary Frenchmen and Germans have no deeper desire than to be permitted to go about their business in peace and good-fellowship. In their interests alone it must be the object of British policy to seize every opportunity to make that desire effective.

FOG OVER HARBOUR

Ferry Schedules Were Disorganised

Unexpected fog followed Saturday afternoon's brilliant sunshine and did not lift until 9 a.m. yesterday.

Waglan and Gap Rock reported the advance of the fog about 10 p.m. on Saturday and by midnight it had settled over the harbour limiting the visibility to about 200 yards.

Ferry schedules were dislocated and helmsmen had an anxious time negotiating the fairway but no collisions were reported to the water police.

The fog continued throughout the night and visibility was still poor at dawn although it improved later.

SONGS AND
MUSICIn Aid Of Church Fund

A varied and highly successful concert, in aid of the building fund of St. Mary's Church, Causeway Bay, was given on Saturday night, under the patronage of Sir Henry and Lady Pollock, in the hall of the St. John Ambulance Association, kindly loaned for the occasion.

The Dance Band of the 2nd Bn. the East Lancashire Regiment, under the direction of Mr. A. B. Yule, gave a number of excerpts from their repertoire, varied with some comedy interludes and tap-dancing, all of which were highly appreciated by the large audience.

The singers were Miss Elvire Yuen, Miss Anne Winter and Mr. Li Chor-eh, while Miss Prue Lewis contributed a violin solo and an obbligato to the songs sung by Mr. Li Chor-eh.

The numerous duties of accompanist were admirably carried out by Mr. Lindsay A. Lafford, F. R. C. O. etc. who also contributed a piano solo in sharp contrast with the frivolous music of the dance band, consisting of Bach's Prelude and Fugue in F sharp minor and Busoni's transcription of Bach's Organ Chorale and Prelude, "Sleepers, Wake."

THREE JAPANESE YOUTHS
ARRESTEDTheft Of Phonograph Leads To Confession Of Other Crimes

Shanghai, April 14.
Questioned by the Japanese Consular Police on charges of having stolen a phonograph and records from the Dahlia Tea Room on Haining Road, three Japanese youths have confessed to earlier transgressions, the "Shanghai Mail" said yesterday.

Yoshitatsu Kobayashi, 22, admitted that he had stolen Y. 50 from Mr. Kinosuke Hattori of Kyobashi Ward, Tokyo, to flee to Shanghai. Arriving here by the m.v. Asama Maru, he was employed by the Seikosha Dairy until he misappropriated $20 he received in payment for bills from the establishment's patrons.

Tachiro Suzuki, also 22, confessed that he had stolen Y.150 after withdrawing the amount from the bank account of his former employer, the Miyazaki Tailor Shop, also of Kyobashi Ward, Tokyo.

The trio said they were discussing the technique of snatching handbags when seized by the police in an empty house, which they used as their hiding place.—"N.C. Daily News."

WEDDING BELLS

Ribeiro-Noronha

A pretty wedding was solemnised at the Rosary Church yesterday when Miss Regina Maria Ribeiro daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Ribeiro, became the bride of Mr. Carlos Antonio Noronha of the Great Northern Telegraph Co.

The Rev. Fr. Rossi officiated and the bride was given away by her father. The duties of best man were carried out by Mr. F. Ribeiro while the Matron of Honour was the bride's mother.

The bride looked pretty in an embroidered organdie dress, a creation by Madame Dalin, and carried a sheaf of arum lilies. The Misses E. Ribeiro, O. Ribeiro, H. Ribeiro and A. d'Almada, O. M. Ribeiro and M. Noronha were the bridesmaids, and made a striking contrast to the bride in white crushed organdie dresses. Little Miss S. Barreto (flower girl) and Master E. Noronha (page boy) were also in attendance. The bridesmaids carried heart shaped bouquets of carnations. Mrs. J. Ribeiro was dressed in a royal blue creation, in satin crepe.

Following the service at the church, a well attended reception was held at the Club de Recreio, where friends of the happy couple joined in offering their felicitations to the 'newly weds.'

The bride's going away dress was of French pink crepe with a picture hat to match. The honeymoon is to be spent in Macao.

It was learned that there was insufficient evidence to show that the students were Communists.

The arrest of the Fuh Tan students followed a search of the university premises for Communist suspects by men of the Public Safety Bureau. CATHEDRAL SERMON

The following sermon was delivered by Rev. W. W. Baines at the Cathedral yesterday: "I John 5 v 9."

"This is the witness of God which He hath testified of His Son." The Christian religion may be to many a stumbling block and foolish but it is to those who have the eyes to see the power and the wisdom of God. And to us who during these last days have stood upon the towers of the dawn and sensed again the stirrings of an eternal spring it has been given to open our eyes and see the triumph of that power and wisdom. Easter has come and we have seen the light won from darkness and not overcome by it. This light was not a flash but consummation. Bethlehem, Galilee, Jerusalem, Calvary, and the Easter Garden are one and indivisible though it is the Easter Garden which enables us to see it so. And it is this whole witness of God which he hath testified to His son that the Church takes out and proclaims to the world.

Take the life and the resurrection of our Lord together and they are the witness of the reality of the presence of God behind life, to His character and His deity. If our Lord had risen from the dead and there had not been during His earthly existence the perfection of His life and love, the resurrection would simply have been a marvel staggering to the guards who kept the tomb and incredible to everybody else. On the other hand if our Lord had not risen from the dead we would have wondered how the power of God who is behind life had been frustrated and had failed to give some sort of witness that this life, which was so perfect, was indeed a life of union with His will and the perfected utterance of His thought.

Nothing essentially divine. The archbishop of York has said that there is nothing essentially divine in a martyr. In the life which is crowned and the death which is cancelled, the Resurrection has set its seal on our faith in the divinity of Christ.

But this testimony which God has made to His Son does not make divinity as it were more distant but more real. For consider how the Resurrection appearances of our Lord bore his own characteristic stamp of humility and holiness and utter disregard of any desire to score off those who had injured Him. He did not appear to Caiaphas or Pilate saying "Here am I whom you condemned, who is master now?" He appeared to the humble and the penitent, to doubting Thomas and heart broken Peter and to Mary of the Seven Devils whom he had reclaimed. To those poor friends the Lord of Life appeared. And witnessed to the character and to the mind of God.

Of all this—the witness which the resurrection of Jesus bears to the divinity and the character of God—every Sunday reminds us. In older days this Sunday in the year was known as Little Easter and every Sunday should be to us such a little Easter, fresh with the originality of that day which was both the last and the first of days. Original with the novelty and amazing surprise which belong to the wonder of each new day. Every Sunday should remind us thus of the glory of God; it should come to us like the reward of a glorious view which awaits the climber after the long effort of the hill and summon us at the end of the old week and the first day of the new to lift up our hearts and to give thanks unto our Lord God for this is the burden of our religion.

NOT THE GLORY OF A DAY
But remember again that what Easter shows to us is not the glory of a single day it is the consummation of all the days upon which Christ could say "It is finished." Easter signifies not only the power and the triumph of God, but also and much more, the crowning of a way, God's witness which He testified to the life of perfect obedience which Jesus lived. Sunday follows Friday and just as every first day of the week is our memorial of the light so every Friday is our memorial of the cross. All our visions and hopes of bliss and of invulnerability must be caught in this way upon which God put his seal and not in any natural religion or secret power house of man. Our nature is such that we must labour to enjoy; sin must be centred before health can be restored, and so the ultimate and consummate joy of which Easter is the earliest token can come only by facing the worst. We then must be prepared to embrace the drab and the humdrum and all the evil of the day. If we profess that we love Christ and think otherwise, we have not learnt the meaning of

His example. Is it not we who dictated the terms on which the noblest human life should be lived and we who imposed the way of suffering? Well then, we disciples are not greater than our master and the way through the cross to light is the way that we must follow.

Do let us lay hold upon this for it is at the centre of our religion. Easter's victory was bought at a price. As Father D'Arcy has said "when the Bridgroom is by there is occasion of feasting but when He is absent and hidden away in a strong guard-room with spittle upon His face and bruised and broken through our fault and thus winning the battle for our souls. It is monstrous that we should stand at the window complaining of the conditions that He lays down and thinking only of enjoyment."

The springtime of our religious experience must pass, and the tests of love must come. And although the silly soul within us is for ever longing to go on holiday, to rush off to the seaside, to forget the office stool, we had better remember that another road would lead to another end and that only by the cross shall we come to the light.

SHARE AT THIS TIME

And so in the joy that we share at this time over the character of God and of the triumph and the glory which he conferred upon inextinguishable love, let us be mindful that what God has glorified, that to which he has given witness, is not only the goal but also the way, not only the end but also the means, not only the joy that a new man is born when one is in Christ but also the travail by which alone he can come to earth. For hereunto that is the way of discipleship of discipline of forgiveness—were ye are called—; for Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps; who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth; who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously; who his own self bare our sins in his body on the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness. Wherefore if any man is in Christ, there is a new creation, the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new.

The Proven
STOMACH REMEDY
for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produces complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tormented stomach it begins to soothe the sour, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become as bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and presently disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon lose its tenderness and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

INAUGURATING A NEW ERA IN INDIA

Lord Linlithgow, as Viceroy, have the intensely interesting task of inaugurating the new Constitution, for which responsible duty much of his recent public life has been a preparation of altogether unique value. There may be sympathy with Lord Willingdon that, after five years in which he has laboured earnestly for the new era in India, his term of office comes to an end before he sees the full fruit of his efforts. That fact throws into strong light the length of the preparation that has been necessary. Over eight years have passed since Sir John Simon set out for India to make the preliminary inquiries. The bringing into operation of a larger measure of self-government will have required a period of 10 years before the structure is completed.

Delay has not been a disadvantage. Conditions in India are more favourable now than for years past. Politically civil disobedience and passive resistance have been abandoned. Terrorism although the possibility of recurrence is still an anxiety to authority, has been crushed. The Indian Congress has decided to enter the Legislatures. Its present mood is one of resolute opposition, that in its turn may change when it is realised that the main consequence will be to give office and power to its Indian opponents. Economically the country is recovering a measure of prosperity. There was a surplus in the central Budget this year, enabling taxation to be reduced and permitting some aid to the less fortunate provinces. There is promise that before the reforms are inaugurated the extra money required will be forthcoming without additional taxation. The actual financial arrangements still await the report of Sir Otto Niemeyer, one of the several experts who have been engaged in preparing the machinery necessary for novel conditions.

Recently the House of Commons discussed the Orders in Council that will enable the new Provincial Legislatures to be elected. Most of the criticism from the Labour benches of what was described as the inadequate representation of trade union in was based on a misconception of conditions in India. In a country in which agriculture is the occupation of 90 per cent. of the population most of the members for general constituencies will be returned by voters who belong to the working classes. Trade unionism, where it exists at all in India, is not the highly organised machine we know in this country, but is in its primitive beginnings. The most serious danger to progress in India is any assumption that

GOD SAVE THE KING

TWO LOCAL YACHTS LOST IN FOG

Saturday Night Spent Outside Harbour

The great anxiety which prevailed in local yachting circles on Saturday night with the non-appearance of two yachts of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club was completely allayed when early yesterday morning the yachts and their occupants made their appearance at the local slipway after a night spent outside the waters of the harbour.

The two yachts were the Y.S. and the H.T. and information gleaned at the club yesterday stated that the two yachts after cruising outside the harbour became lost in the fog that fell during Saturday night. The yachtsmen lost their bearings and could not get back during the night.

CHINA'S ASSURANCE TO JAPAN

Tokyo, April 18.

A special message appearing in the "Asahi" from Nanking reports that General Chang Chun, China's Foreign Minister, has assured the Japanese Consul, Mr. Suma, that China does not recognise the mutual assistance pact between Outer Mongolia and Soviet Russia.

Moreover, China has no intention whatever of putting up a united front against Japan with Russia.

The country can be given and can utilise successfully the same democratic machinery that has been evolved in this country through a hundred years of experiment. Politically India is still a child. The merit of the new Constitution is that it allows for growth. In the process many mistakes will be made, such as the Indian Assembly's denunciation of the Ottawa Agreement. Through the process of evolution Lord Linlithgow should prove a strong and efficient guide.

Lord Willingdon, the retiring Viceroy of India.

BIRD LIFE STUDY

Interesting Results In Germany.

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special Berlin, April 19.

Special ornithological research work since 1934 has been carried out in the Reich to ascertain the extent of the cause of homing instinct in other birds than the typical and familiar homing pigeon, and very interesting results have been obtained. Experiments were made with a large number of birds trapped specially for this purpose. These birds were marked with a small numbered aluminium ring passed over one leg and liberated at great distances from the region where caught, without having been kept many hours in captivity. To shorten the hours in cages, the birds were transported by fast train and where feasible by aeroplane.

One large scale experiment was carried out with starlings, altogether three hundred and fifty being caught in various parts and sent several hundred miles to other parts. Among the places taking part in the experiment were Hesse, Bremen, the Rhineland, and Silesia, East Prussia and Berlin.

A large percentage of starlings released in Berlin were recaptured at the original place in amazingly short time. When sent back to the place of liberation the second time, they even carried home letters like a carrier pigeon, showing how strong the instinct is to return home even among the wild birds.

Of seven chimney swallows taken to London, five found their way back to Berlin. Other swallows released in London and Gletwitz reached Berlin within two days. A curious fact that has shown itself is that in the case of migratory birds the homing instinct always leads them back to the wintering quarters in the winter but to the nesting places in the spring or summer.

Microwaves trapped in Berlin in December 1935 and sent to Sem-pach Bird Observatory in Switzerland returned immediately, one being caught at the New Year in exactly the same spot on the same bridge over the River Spree where originally it was captured.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Apr. 19.

A strong Japanese policy towards China is envisaged by the projected appointment of Mr. Shigeru Kawagoe, Japanese Consul General in Tientsin, as ambassador to China. The prospective ambassador is well-known here, as he served as consul general in Canton some three years ago.

Observers here recall the active and energetic work of Mr. Kawagoe in rounding up reactionary Koreans in Canton. Several of them were suspected to be carrying on anti-Japanese activity in the city.

Mr. Kawagoe was later transferred to Tientsin. He also discovered the article on "Gossips of an emperor" in the New Life Weekly. For printing an article against the Japanese emperor, the editor was imprisoned. If Mr. Kawagoe did not see the article, it would have passed unnoticed.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "DAWN")

The Annual Yacht Club dance which was held on Friday at the Peninsula Hotel, was a big success, and all the yachting enthusiasts were there. Several very large parties were given and all the younger members of Hong Kong seemed to be there. Mrs. Carlington Sykes, in white, was with a large party. Major and Mrs. Edwards, both great supporters of the Yacht Club were dining a deux. The three "Dodwells" were to be seen, Anne in pale blue striped satin, Diana in turquoise blue with a white organdie coat which was most effective over the blue, while Pamela was in dark maroon. I liked Mrs. Moore's idea of the two small bunches of red white and blue flowers in her hair at the back. Mrs. Singer looked very cool and fresh in pale green organdie. Mrs. Cooper who left on Saturday in the Naldera will be very much missed by all her friends and was having her farewell party, which was a very cheerful affair. Miss Newton was in black with two large silver flowers in her hair, while Joan Smalley favoured black also with a spray of red feather flowers on the shoulder. Mrs. Sanders was attractive in red and also Miss Skinn. Audrey Steele was there in green and white and Mrs. Harrison outstandingly attractive in white.

This week seems to have been one round of farewell parties and saying good-byes. With the Fleet leaving on Tuesday and most of the wives within the next few days, there will be a large clearance, and many people every week seem to be going away on leave. The Gunners had a large and most successful cocktail party last week and every one imaginable seemed to be there. Their Miss is ideal for a successful party and the effect of the Pipers playing out on the lawn was most engaging. The East Lanes on Monday are having a farewell party for the Fleet and I am sure that it will be enjoyed equally as much as the Gunners.

The A.D.C. show was a great success and those who did not see it missed a really good evening's entertainment. Sir Thomas and Lady Southern and General and Mrs. Batholomew were there on the first night, and after the show went onto the stage and congratulated all the members of the cast, who deserved all the lovely baskets of flowers which were presented at the conclusion of the play. We hope that we will see them all in another play together before very long.

STRANDING OF TREASURES

London Journal's Comment

London, Apr. 18.

The "Observer" remarks that the stranding of the Chinese treasures has raised questions of almost metaphysical in their difficulty.

If a salvage claim was made what valuation should be placed on the treasure no money could restore? Some kind of guess might be made as to the price which collectors inspired by various motives might be prepared to give for individual pieces, but that would not be assessing the loss to China of such a collection cherished as heirlooms.

It is wholesome to be reminded occasionally of a few trifles like beauty, love and happiness that elude the clutches of calculation.

A well-known constable, P.C.D. 210, Chi Kwi Ying, was slightly injured in the right leg and had to be treated in the Government Civil Hospital.

It appears that the car driven by Mr. Higaski swerved to avoid a collision with another vehicle coming from Wellington Street. The accident occurred at 11 a.m.

Thrilling sport was witnessed at Sookunpoo on Saturday when, in spite of the stifling heat, no less than four records were shattered at the annual Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps athletic meeting, the Corps Infantry claiming two of these to win the Inter-Unit Championship and the Commandant's Cup.

The brilliant sunshine that we had on Saturday afternoon took a change for the worse towards the evening when the clouds started to gather over the hills. By nightfall it looked as though we would be in for another of those damp nights that we have been experiencing all too frequently of late.

The target accommodation at Stonecutters on Saturday was taxed to the limit when the weekly spoon shoot of the Hong Kong Rifle Association was held. Over 70 attended the shoot with the result that, as has happened in the past, those firing in later details did so in poor light and at a time when the haze made visibility very poor.

ITALIAN OCCUPATION OF LAKE TSANA

Troops Swear An Oath To Defend It

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Rome, April 18.

The spirit prevailing among the Italian troops advancing into the heart of Abyssinia is revealed by an incident which took place when a column commanded by Starace, Secretary of Fascist Party, after Lake Tsana was reached and the Italian tricolour was hoisted.

Starace required the troops to take the oath: "We swear that the waters of this lake will be crimsoned with the blood of whoever should make an attempt to take this away from us again." These words were uttered solemnly from the extreme end of a promontory jutting out into Lake Tsana, recently renamed Cape Mussolini.

The semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" prints these words on the front page in heavy type heading across four columns of the paper, intimating that this settles once and for all the question of the ultimate possession of the Lake Tsana region.

Marshal Badoglio's latest telegram from the front which was published here as official Italian war bulletin No. 188 states that in the Dessie region numerous chiefs and notables reported to Italian headquarters on Friday, and signed itself extraordinarily content at the Italian occupation.

On the Somali front, the Italian advance guard were coming into touch with the enemy. The Air Force continues to be very active.

DESSIE ACTIVITY

Rome, April 18.

The First Army Corps and an Eritrean column have been pouring into Dessie the last two days. The Italian High Command has transferred its headquarters to the Imperial Palace at Dessie.

The reason for the delay in the advance of General Graziani's forces in the southern front is given as due to an outbreak of influenza among mules which are necessary for transportation purposes.

General Graziani is now relying on motor lorries for carrying supplies and roads are feverishly constructed to enable the forces to advance. Twenty thousand labourers have been rushed from Italy for road making in the southern front.

FOREIGNERS ARMED

Addis Ababa, April 18.

In view of the possible Italian attempt to occupy the capital room, the Abyssinian Government is considering the question of moving the seat of Government westward.

Alarmed by alleged threats of the Italians to punish whites who have been assisting the Abyssinians, the Belgian officers and instructors are seeking permission to leave the country, but it is understood the Government is not prepared to release them until their contract expires.

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF LEAGUE

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Geneva, April 18.

Concerning the extraordinary session of the League of Nations on Monday, it is stated in authoritative quarters here that it is planned that during the forenoon representatives of both belligerent countries will be given the opportunity to address the assembly. Following this the League of Nations Council will pass the report submitted by the Committee of Thirteen.

It is emphasised that the Committee of Thirteen will not be dissolved, although for the moment there is no special task to be allotted it.

The second League Council will be held on Monday afternoon to discuss and formulate a concluding motion.

LEAGUE INVITATION TO GERMANY

Geneva, April 18.

The Secretary General of the League, M. Avenol, has informed the German Government that the Locarno question will come before the Council at the next session on May 11 and inviting it to send a delegate as well as interested parties.

LEAGUE PALACE APATHY

Empty Echoes In The Corridors

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Geneva, April 18.

An air of apathy descended on League headquarters on Saturday after it became known that as a result of M. Paul Boncour's conversation with Mr. Anthony Eden on Friday, Britain came round to the French view providing that the convocation of the Committee of Thirteen as well as all decisions regarding sanctions will be postponed until after the French elections on May 11.

The corridors of the League Palace echoed empty, the only session taking place there on Saturday being that of the Committee of Thirteen which met for the purpose of deciding the main features of the report which the President, Senor de Madariaga will submit to the League Council on Monday on the failure of conciliation negotiations. This fact it is understood has been expressed in a draft resolution which also gives a non-committal expression to the hope that the situation will improve.

The Committee of Thirteen itself adopted a report by its legal experts on the infringements of the conventions of warfare of which the belligerents mutually accused each other and this report will be conveyed to the conflicting parties with a request for an expression of their views.

PEACE EFFORT FAILURE

Uneasiness Felt In Italy

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Rome, April 18.

In the leading political circles here, the consequences of the failure of the attempt made by the Committee of Thirteen to bring about a settlement of the Italo-Abyssinian conflict by arbitration appears to be causing uneasiness which expresses itself in the repeated assertion that the blame for the present deadlock is due to Abyssinia.

This uneasiness is quite at variance with the defiant attitude taken up by the popular press. In the political circles mentioned, it is asserted that Italy will partake in the League of Nations session on Monday and will observe the cool attitude maintained in the last few days and refuse to become party to any diplomatic intrigue likely to lead to the prolongation of the war, which Italy would like to see ended militarily, diplomatically and morally as soon as possible.

On the other hand, the circles referred to seem to believe that the Italian attitude at the League Council will accord closely with the three points announced from Geneva on Thursday night.

Saturday night's newspapers here discuss the failure of the Committee of Thirteen's attempt to arrange arbitration and describe this as "a retreat along the whole of the sanctimonious front."

At the same time the papers emphasise heavily General Graziani's new advance on the Abyssinian southern front. Nothing, it is asserted, can now prevent the Italian army reaching its final goal so that in a few weeks, at the most, all Abyssinia will be under Italian occupation.

NEW VICEROY OF INDIA

Great Welcome At Capital

London, April 18.

A royal salute of 31 guns announced the arrival in New Delhi to-day of the new Viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, who with his entourage traveled in a special train from Bombay. Great crowds gathered to welcome him and he was enthusiastically cheered as he drove to Viceroy's House where in the Durbar Hall there was a distinguished gathering including the Commander-in-Chief, high officials of the Government of India, ruling princes, diplomatic representatives and members of the Central Legislature.

After Lord Linlithgow had been sworn in, the Viceroy's flag was unfurled and a royal salute of 31 guns announced his assumption of office.

ASSISTANCE PROMISED

In the course of a broadcast address to all people of India, the Viceroy said it would be his duty throughout the anxious period ahead of them to tender such counsel as might seem to him to be within his proper function and calculated to assist in the discharge of the responsibilities of citizenship under representative Government.

Speaking to millions of newly enfranchised voters, the Viceroy said: "In no circumstances can it be for me to teach you how to vote. Leaders of political parties by whatever name they are known which are competing within the orbit of constitution for suffrage of provincial electorates may rely implicitly upon me never wittingly to use language calculated to prejudice their lawful interests."

Concluding his speech the Viceroy added: "I ask no more than that you should favour me with the same wholehearted trust that I have promised to extend to you."

ADVICE TO YOUNG

New York, April 18.

Lord Linlithgow's broadcast to the people of India was characterized by human touches, especially when the new Viceroy urged the District Officers to "know your villages" and advised the younger generation to fear God, honour the King Emperor and obey their parents.

Lord Linlithgow emphasised that the Viceroy is strictly impartial and promised full support to the Service and Crown to which he extended greetings.

RETIRING VICEROY

The retiring and incoming Viceroy met for a few hours at Bombay. Lord and Lady Willingdon, after a round of farewell functions at New Delhi, which included a magnificent banquet by 37 Ruling Princes, arrived at Bombay just before the arrival of the P. & O. liner Strathmore, with the Marquess and Marchioness of Linlithgow aboard.

Lord and Lady Willingdon, sailed to-day on the same ship as brought Lord Willingdon's successor to India.

FAILURE OF EFFORTS

Three Conclusions In Report

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Geneva, April 18.

The session of the Committee of Thirteen that began at 5 o'clock lasted an hour, and passed Senor de Madariaga's report reviewing all efforts made to bring the Italo-Abyssinian conflict to an end by arbitration.

Three chief conclusions stressed in the report are (1) that the Italian proposals were worked out taking into consideration the military situation; (2) Abyssinia's refusal to negotiate except within the framework of the League of Nations; and (3) that in consequence of this the Committee of Thirteen are unable to attain any success despite prolonged and strenuous efforts.

As for the poison gas question, the Committee restricted itself to receiving a report of the Juristic Committee which was passed on to the belligerents.

A complete report of the Committee of Thirteen will likewise be sent to both Italy and Abyssinia, and also to the League of Nations Council.

GENERAL STAFF GATHERING

Press Gleanings Into Talks

London, April 18.

The staff talks in London mainly dealt with preventing a German attack through Belgium, according to reports from Paris.

It is alleged that the British requested the Belgians to create a line of defences between Antwerp and Ghent, not composed of forts but arrangements to flood the country. Forts would be built below Ghent and the Belgians will rapidly construct a line of defence as an extension of the formidable French Maginot Line.

French newspapers understand that the French and British offered to help Belgium to perfect the defence, and British air representatives dwelt on the necessity immediately of utilising the Belgian military aerodromes in the event of a sudden emergency. In the meantime further Belgian flying fields will be rapidly completed.

POISON GAS IN WARFARE

Report Adopted At Geneva

Geneva, April 18.

The Committee of Thirteen adopted the report prepared by Senor de Madariaga and M. Avenol recording the fact that conciliation has failed.

The Committee also adopted the report of the Hague experts on the use of poison gas. The document contains Ethiopian allegations against the Italians and the British document submitted to the League. The report was referred to the two Governments for observations.

DR. MELLIS REPORT

London, April 18.

The British Red Cross headquarters in London received a report from Dr. Mellis, commander of the British Red Cross unit at Quorum which was bombed by the Italians, stating that the planes flew low and encircled the encampment several times before opening fire.

The Red Cross Hospital was plainly marked and situated on open ground and there were no Abyssinian soldiers or artillery nearby.

The report added that the Red Cross treated many cases of mustard gas poisoning, mostly among women and children. A special dressing station was placed near the front lines as many of the gas casualties were blinded and unable to reach the distance to the Red Cross unit.

POLITICAL SITUATION DIFFICULTIES

Mr. Baldwin Deals With Various Aspects

HORRORS OF POISON GAS

London, April 18.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, in a speech at Bowdley said the combination of two events of first importance during the last few years, namely the rearming of Germany and attempts to put into play the Covenant of the League of Nations, had made it perfectly plain that an increase in certain armaments in this country was absolutely necessary. If Britain was to play her part and fulfil her obligations under the League and maintain her position in the world, this step must be taken, and at the last election the Government received a mandate to proceed with rearmament.

Proceeding he said it was felt at the close of the war that imposition of sanctions in order to bring an aggressor instantly to book by world pressure would be an easy matter. The League as it existed to-day, however, was not the League that was envisaged when it was created. At least three great powers armed and industrialised were not in the League—the United States of America, Germany and Japan. Their absence made the imposition of sanctions of less force.

The League of Nations has been unable to prevent war between Italy and Abyssinia. It is true it took the prescribed collective steps in declaring Italy the aggressor and in imposing certain sanctions. But there does not seem yet to be effective machinery for stopping war if one of the parties is determined to go to war and not submit the differences in dispute to discussion and arbitration.

In the second place sanctions are slow in their action. Again sanctions lose a great deal of their force unless they can be supported by the ultimate sanctions—by blockade or by force. It is difficult to see how in the existing membership of the League blockade would be agreed to by members forming the League.

ITALIAN ATTACKS

There is a tendency in regard to League action to single out individuals either for praise or blame instead of regarding the record of the League as a result of collective effort, said the Premier. "I notice in the Italian press that our Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, is being attacked with lack of restraint which we must regret for what is regarded as anti-Italian policy."

"There are two misconceptions underlying this attack which I wish to remove. First I want to make it clear beyond all doubt that the policy which the Foreign Secretary is conducting in this matter is not his own personal policy but the considered policy of the whole Government, and I would add that it is a policy which I am convinced is supported by an overwhelming majority of British people. Secondly it is not anti-Italian policy. Its motive is not defeat or humiliation of Italy, but support of the Covenant of the League. We want the Covenant of the League to become the law of the world. That being our object we are bound to give our whole support to the League when its Covenant is broken. That is our only motive in the matter and it is a motive which I believe is fully understood by the rest of the world. If Italy thinks that the object of our policy is to bring about her defeat and humiliation that is a profound mistake on her part."

"But what chance have we? I would not say the omens are wholly unfavourable. The sky is dark in many quarters, but we have the proposals before us, both French and German, to which we are giving our most serious attention. It is the first time that similar proposals have come simultaneously from these two European powers and who is more fitted to investigate this question, and try and bring these countries together than we?"

"I have said in my time hard things about dictators because I believe that in the long run dictatorship might well bring more perils in its train in future than those perils it removes."

Herr Hitler, dictator in Germany, has it in his power to-day from his position to do more at this moment, to lift that black shadow which is hanging over Europe than any other man living in Europe. He has it in his power, God grant he may have the will. If he is willing nothing that this country can do will be left undone to help him. I am convinced that if Herr Hitler has the will there is no people in Europe but would co-operate with him for their hearts are set on peace and they look on war with horror. The next few months will be vital."

Referring to use of poison gas in Abyssinia, the Premier said:

"We are working for it and shall work for it. We have not yet achieved it and we have some way to go before we shall get it. Collective security will never work unless all nations who take part in it are prepared simultaneously to threaten with military sanctions any further aggression. That means that nations who take part in collective security must be ready."

NAVY TO BLAME FOR THEIR DEFEAT YESTERDAY

OLYMPIC PLAYERS IMPRESS

The final of the Kowloon Cup and the Olympic trial games were played yesterday and in the first encounter, the Navy met the Army. The Army won and the Navy have only themselves to blame for this defeat as they had more than three-quarters of the game. The score was two goals to one.

The Olympic Teams played two teams of the Colony. The Colony's sides were not up to standard. China won both games and in the "A" match by a score of seven goals to one.

It was a deplorable fact that the Rest teams were weaker than was intended due to the absence of some of the selected players. Four of the Reserves were called upon and had to play in both matches.

CLEVER FOOTBALL SEEN

NAVY TO BLAME

The Army defeated the Navy yesterday at the Kowloon Football Club ground, in the final of the Kowloon Cup by two goals to one, after a hard game in which all the points were obtained in the first half. To the Navy supporters the game was most disappointing, for after being aggressors for ninety per cent. of the game, the Senior Service had to bow to an eleven that snapped any opportunity in front of the goal that came their way.

Howlett, of the Royal Engineers (a second division player) who played in the centre forward position was the best example for this type of play; he always looked dangerous in front of goal, but the opposite must be said of Spencer and his colleagues.

There was a distinguished gathering present at the match, which included amongst others, Vice-Admiral Little, Commander-in-Chief, China Station, Commodore Sedgwick and Mrs. Sedgwick, Col. H. C. Harrison, G.S.O.I., Dr. Kotewall (donor of the "Kotewall" Cup) and Mrs. Kotewall.

Before the commencement of the game, Vice-Admiral Little shook hands with both elevens who were drawn up in line opposite the covered stands, and later he kicked off the ball to set the game in motion.

NAVY ATTACKS

The covered stand was packed to capacity, the majority of spectators being composed of the Senior Service. In spite of being the aggressors from the commencement Navy's defeat must be put down to the utter failure of their inside trio to convert when favourably placed. In the second half when the Army were hemmed in their own half for most of the play, Spencer, Rose and Gould all missed narrowly. Their positional play until within the penalty area was superb and had the Army defence on their toes throughout. But once within shooting range, the Navy machine broke down, for Swain and Steele to nip in time and again to effect last minute and spectacular clearances from the toes of the Navy forwards.

To Rowlands in goal for the Army, special praise must be given him for his exhibition between the sticks. Whenever a shot came his way (it was not very often) he cleared in confident style, and in spite of all that the Navy did, long before the final whistle sounded, one had the feeling that try as they would, they would not penetrate a vigilant Army defence.

THE FIRST GOAL

The first Army goal came much against the run of play. Hayman the Naval custodian in effecting his first clearance of the game ran out and held the ball. He was penalised for holding, and Talbot took the kick from about five yards out. He passed to Ridings who beat Hayman with a fast shot. In spite of this piece of bad luck the Navy attacked incessantly but without result. Sandford (Army) then broke away and taking a forward pass from Howlett netted much to the delight of Army supporters. The men had already lined up in the middle of the field, before Referee Kossick after a deliberation with the linesman ruled the point offside and gave a free kick.

The Navy took up the attack again, and Spencer who had moved to the right sent in a neat pass for Rose to beat Rowlands from eight yards out. With both teams level some good football was seen with the Army having their full share of exchanges. A few minutes before half time Howlett broke through after a nice movement between the Army forwards to neatly and coolly put the ball out of Hayman's reach.

ON THE ATTACK AGAIN

The Army were on the attack again and Howlett with the goal at his mercy dilly-dallied too long for Hayman to dive at his feet and clear.

After the interval, Talbot dropped back to the defence from inside left, and played a great game at left half. Howlett shifted from centre forward to inside right but this movement did not improve the Army's attack.

The second half saw the Senior Service do everything but score, and the final whistle came as a relief to the weak finishes of Spencer and his inside men.

Following the game, Mrs. Sedgwick presented L/Cpl. Swain of the 2nd Battalion the East Lancs. Regiment, captain of the Army eleven with the Kowloon Cup. Each of the winning team were also presented with replicas of the handsome trophy.

Mrs. Sedgwick was herself the recipient of a silver vase of flowers. Three lusty cheers called by L/Cpl. Swain for Mrs. Sedgwick and Mrs. Kotewall, were lustily given.

The teams were:—
Army:—Fus. Rowlands; L/Cpl. Swain and L/Cpl. Steele Cpl. Ball, Cpl. Campbell and Fus. Evans; Pte. Smith, Pte. Sandford, Spr. Howlett, Fus. Talbot and Pte. Ridings.

Navy:—Hayman; Regular and Wolverson; Tudor, Wride and Wallace, Doran, Rose, Spencer, Gould and Wearmouth.

"REST" DISAPPOINT

The Chinese Olympic teams playing against the Rest of the Colony at Caroline Hill yesterday saw football which from the Chinese point of view was very gratifying. The Chinese teams were immensely superior to those of the Rest. What went astray with the Rest teams is not known but four of the reserves had to play and not only this but the same four players had to play in both matches. It was rather poor opposition that was thus offered to the Chinese Olympic team as the score of seven goals to one will indicate.

F. Fowler, G. White, F. J. Elms and K. Farrow were the players who sportingly played in both games to cover up the absence of those who should have played.

It was hardly a match to judge form by, as the opposition was not sufficiently great to extend the Chinese. Nevertheless, they gave an exhibition which showed what class of football they are capable.

FIRST MATCH

In the first match which was the Olympic "B" versus the Rest "B" the Chinese won by five goals to four. This game should have been a draw. Fowler missed a penalty in the last minute of the game.

In the other match, the Olympic team versus the Rest "A," it was a walk-over for the Chinese, to say the least. The Rest team including four men who had played in the previous game, were not up to the mark. It is true that they scored first, and this from a marvellous first-timer from Belrao, but they were a poor side and certainly not fit to be called the Colony "A" team. It was bad enough that the Association were without the services of the Army and Navy players.

The Chinese forwards were very fine. Passing and shooting with the greatest of ease and precision. Lee Wai-tong who scored five of the goals shared the honours of the game with Suen Kam-shun who also scored the remaining two goals. They were a fine combination tion and all the goals were the results of the fine understanding of these two players. Tay Qual-liang on the left was his usual fast and tricky self causing great concern for the Rest, with his sparkling rushes down the wing. Fung King-cheong, as clever as ever, was over shadowed by his other two inner men, Lee and Suen. Tso Kwai-shing on the right flank was inclined to over-run and misjudge a little.

The Chinese defence was staunch, Lee Tin-sang and Tam Kong-pak, the backs, clearing, coolly and well. The halves worked hard and were very successful in keeping the Rest forwards in check.

For the Rest, S. Strange at right back and his brother E. Strange, left half did most of the work. They were materially helped in no small manner by Belrao and Farrow. Elms was pitiable but it must be remembered that this was his second game that afternoon.

Fowler on the right gave a good display of his second of the day. The Rest attack was materially damaged by the inclusion of two tried men in the line, Fowler and White. Blackford in the early stages of the game was completely starved. He changed over with White in the second half. Leonard and Ward the remaining two forwards tried hard but ineffectively to pass the Chinese defence.

The team tried to score with long shots in the latter part of the match. The Rest took the lead early in the game from a corner. Blackford sent the ball over which was taken first time by Belrao who scored with a wonderful shot.

The Chinese were not long in replying to this and following a good save by Roger, Lee scored well from the left. He took the ball over and, drawing the defence and the goalie, passed them all with a cross-shot.

The ball flew from end to end in rapid succession. It was football with a sparkle. The Rest had the opportunity of equalising when Ward sent a well directed pass through the Chinese defence. First Leonard and then White missed the ball.

The Chinese took the lead through a miskick by Elms. Lee had the ball just inside the area and shot along the ground. Elms, in an endeavour to save the goal deflected the ball past Roger.

CLEVER COMBINATION

The third goal for China was the result of as pretty a piece of understanding that was ever seen. Lee had the ball and Suen ran across him in anticipation of the pass that was to come. Lee lifted the ball over his opposing man and it was headed by Suen to the feet of Lee who scored his third goal with a beauty.

Half time arrived with the score standing at three goals to one in China's favour.

From the outset China attacked and it was not long before Lee and Suen again came into the picture with another very fine piece of play that gave Lee his fourth goal.

China invaded the Rest's territory with a vengeance keeping up a veritable barrage of shots which Roger saved well. It could not last long and China went further ahead when Suen took the ball through on his own, having received from Fung, beat the backs and scored with a lovely shot. At this stage of the game Suen seemed to be all over the ground and it was not surprising therefore that the next goal came from his boot.

Tso went away on the right and transferred to Fung, who in turn gave the ball to Suen. Suen swerved over to the left and with a fine pot-shot passed Roger.

The last goal of the match was again Lee Wai-tong's. This after a fine piece of combination between he and Fung.

RANGE CROWDED Many Riflemen At Stonecutters

More than 70 riflemen taxed the accommodation at Stonecutters on Saturday when the Hong Kong Rifle Association held its weekly spoon shoot.

Visibility was good for the early details but those firing late in the afternoon found the light poor on account of the sudden haze.

C.P.O. Black was the winner of the spoon competition and subject to verification, Cpl. Butterfield of the R.A.O.C. appears likely to head the handicap section. The winner of those using service rifles "as issued" has not yet been calculated.

In addition to the ordinary mid-week shoot on the Kowloon City army ranges this week there will also be special facilities on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning at Stonecutters for those wishing to practise for the first annual prize meeting which opens on April 30.

The following were the top-scorers in Saturday's shoot:—C.P.O. Black, 97; Cpl. Butterfield (R.A.O.C.), 97; Pte. J. Smith (East Lancs.), 96; H. C. Johnson (Dockyard), 94; Cpl. Chesshire (R. A. O. C.), 92; Capt. Calfyn (Marines), 91; R.S.M. Slater (East Lancs.), 91.

In Maryland and Kentucky, tobacco is air-cured in specially ventilated barns.

In Virginia and the Carolinas, "Bright" tobacco is fire-cured by heat in log barns.

In Turkey and Greece, tobacco is sun-cured by hanging on racks in the open air.

When we say that a tobacco is good enough for Chesterfield cigarettes, we mean just this—

... TOBACCO that is ripened in the sunshine, then picked, leaf by leaf, when fully ripe.

... TOBACCO that is cured just right by the farmer—fire-cured, air-cured or sun-cured to seal in its good aroma and flavor.

... TOBACCO that is aged and mellowed in hogheads or bales for two years or more until free from harshness or bite.

That is the kind of tobacco we use for Chesterfields—mild, ripe tobacco, cured just right and aged for flavor and taste.

AN EVEN GAME

The first game of the day was that between the Rest "B" and the Olympic "B" teams. This game was a more even struggle and one which the Rest might possibly have won. The Chinese forwards seemed a little too light for a really effective attack, but they were nevertheless dangerous and capable.

Here again the Rest team scored first. This goal was from a penalty which was converted by Fowler. But within one minute of establishing this lead, Boyes misjudged when taking a shot, and Cheuk Shek-kam scored the equaliser for the Chinese.

A glorious opportunity of again taking the lead occurred following a fine centre from D. Knox on the left wing. Fowler was right on the goal-line, he could not have been nearer to the goal, and when Wong Wing misjudged the flight and allowed the ball to travel over his head, Fowler missed the ball.

China's second goal came from Ip Pak-wah. He received the ball from a fine centre by D. L. Kai on the right, and scored.

China's forwards were clever and, moving swiftly around outclassed the Rest's defence. Costa, playing at centre-half, was outstanding in the defence and was particularly unlucky when a beautiful first-timer of his went over the bar.

White also had hard luck when his shot was well saved by Wong Wing who was compelled to reach flat on the ground to stop the ball.

After half-time the Rest made positional changes in the team. Knox taking over the centre forward berth, Costa going on the left wing, Farrow dropping back to centre half, Everest moved up to right half and Blackburn took over the right back position.

These changes had results when Costa sent over a very nice centre for Fowler to score and make matters even again. Not only this, they took the lead shortly afterwards. Knox had the ball just outside the penalty area and scored with a real beauty which Wong Wing, in an abortive attempt to save, dived full length.

Tio Huan-guan scored the equaliser for China, following a left wing attack. He received the ball, and moving swiftly across the goalmouth bewildered his opponents with a very smart shot. Matter still went on in this ding-dong manner. Fowler took the ball down the right wing and sent it across to Costa who taking his time over his shot, scored with another beauty.

China once more moved to the attack to reduce this lead and they were successful when, during a tussle in the Rest's goalmouth, Tio and Bowen were on the ground and the ball rolled to Ip Pak-wah who took the opportunity, thus scored and scored.

With the score level China strove hard for the lead. They were rewarded following a clever movement between Tio and Yeung Shui Yick. To took the ball down and, swerving to the right created an opening for Yeung to whom he passed the ball. Yeung scored to give China the lead. In this goal it was evident that Boyes' anticipation was at fault.

The final climax came when Lee Kwok-wai fouled White inside the area and Fowler was elected to take the shot. He missed and immediately afterwards the whistle blew.

Senior Division

STONECUTTERS TROUNCED

The Fusiliers and the R.A. Stonecutters met at Prince Edward Road on Saturday in their First Division match, which resulted in a win for the former by nine goals to nil. The score is a fair indication of the game as the Fusiliers were far too good.

An early accident marred the game when Dennis of the Fusiliers and Marshall of the R.A. when jumping to head the ball, collided, and sustained head injuries which necessitated their removal to the Hospital.

In the first half Dennis scored just before his accident. This goal was followed by three in quick succession from Evans. Harrison added another to bring the score for the first half up to five-nil for the Fusiliers.

Though the Gunners seemed to have up a little, Evans scored another which knocked what resistance the Gunners had out of their game. Evans soon completed his fifth of the game. The other two goals were added by Harrison and Roberts.

ATHLETIC'S DAZZLING DISPLAY

The Athletic team were more than a match for the Royal Ulster Rifles on Saturday when they met in their First Division encounter at Sookunpoo, winning by three goals to one. Two of these goals were scored within the first few minutes.

The Rifles were without the services of Campbell and it was an obvious loss. The opening of the game saw Wong Wing-hong with the ball fifteen yards from the Soldiers' goal. He made no mistake with a beauty.

From the replacement the Chinese forward line swept down again and this time Yeung Kan-po increased the lead. These goals were demoralising and things did not look at all rosy for the Rifles. The play of the remainder of the first was confined to the Soldiers' half and the closure found the Chinese leading by two well-deserved goals.

On the resumption, however, the Soldiers seemed a different team and within five minutes Moore scored from a pass from Docherty. This was not a permanent revival for the Chinese re-asserted themselves and increased their score through Suen Kam shun. The Rifles made a last minute rally but to no avail. They lost to a better team.

POLICE HELD TO A DRAW

Being held to a goalless draw with South China "B" on Saturday at Caroline Hill dispelled the hopes of the Police of becoming the runners-up for the First Division Championship. It was the weak finishing of the forwards in front of the goal that left the game undecided. Chances were offered but they were not taken.

T. Pile missed two attempts when favourably placed. He was not the only defaulter, the wingers spoil many a promising movement by shooting wildly over the bar instead of centring. Gough early in the game nearly put the Police ahead when he brought Pau Ka Ping to his knees in giving a particularly dangerous shot, the result of a solo effort.

The Police were in the attack from the outset of the second half and the Chinese goal nearly fell again when North placed a free kick right in front of the Chinese goal.

Towards the latter part of the game McHardy came into the picture with two glorious saves which came in rapid succession from Cheung Shek-kam and Kia Yau-lung.

CLUB'S ASPIRATIONS WANING

The draw between the Club and Kowloon on Saturday in their First Division Match put an end to the Club's faint hopes of being able to challenge South China "A" for the leadership of the Premier Division. The game was played in Kowloon and though it was not a brilliant game Kowloon deserved the point which they gained.

Most of the play was in mid-field though the Club forwards were slightly better than Kowloon's. Thus it was that Boyes covered himself with glory. He had more work to do than Rodger and if it were not for his sterling exhibition, Kowloon would have lost the match.

Knox and G. White were the best of the Kowloon forwards and in the defence Boyd excelled. Everest and Eastman covered well but were outshone by their brilliant team-mate.

For the Club Elliot and Fowler were the most dangerous of the forwards. It was Fowler who scored the goal for the Club. E. Strange was clever at left half, but Blackford on the wing was starved.

The Club scored in the second half after a goalless first, through Fowler who received from Blackford. It appeared as though the Club were going out the winners on this goal, but Knox broke through in the last moment and transferring to G. White, who scored with a beautiful header.

R. A. LYEMUN WEAK

Uninteresting football marked the defeat of the R.A. Lyemun by the East Lanes, by four goals to one, when they met at Causeway Bay on Saturday in their First Division match.

The first goal for the Lanes was the result of a tussle in front of goal between Mackrill and Smith. The ball just rolled into the net.

Ridings added the second goal in the second half, when he went away on his own on the left. It was not long before Sanford added to this when he took advantage of an opening made by Walkden and placed one past Mackrill.

Mackrill saved well from Eckersley but the ball fell to Smith who scored the fourth goal for the East Lanes. This was the final goal of the game for the Lanes, and they were all the results of the weakness of the R.A.'s defence.

It was a matter of ease for Lawton and his colleagues Walkden and Thorpe to hold the Artillery front line, led by Reece, and they were, in consequence, inclined to pay too little attention to the opposing attack. Barford, taking advantage of this, snapped up a clever through pass by Morton, steadied himself and placed a well directed shot out of Oxford's reach to score the best goal of the game.

The skill of Mackrill kept down the East Lanes, score towards the end, despite a series of heavy onslaughts on the Gunners' goal.

JUNIOR DIVISION

The Second Division encounter between the Athletic and the Eastern on Saturday at Caroline Hill resulted in a win for the Athletic by five goals to two.

Playing with seven men in the first half, the Eastern did better than they did in the second half when they had a full team. The first half score was three to two in the Athletic's favour. The Eastern conceded two more goals without reply in the second half.

KOWLOON BADLY BEATEN

The Kowloon juniors were no match for the Rifles on Saturday when they met at Chatham Road in their Second Division match. Kowloon fought hard in the first half and had the gratification of holding the soldiers to a goalless half.

On the resumption however, Boyd netted from the penalty spot. He increased the lead a few minutes later when he scored from a rather difficult angle. Boyd obtained his hat-trick with another "spot" kick, for a foul against Fuxman.

A last minute goal by Lindsay brought the total to four, with a well placed header.

S. CHINA LUCKY

South China juniors lost to the Royal Engineers by two clear goals after a fast game. The Engineers collared the play right from the start and it was their own fault that the score was not greater. Their wing men were starved and the concentrated play in the centre was not to the best advantage.

Howlett opened the score for the Sappers following a fine passing display in front of the Chinese goal. The Chinese resisted but their efforts failed because they did not have the finish to their movements.

Darby increased the lead in the second half after twenty minutes play. South China tried to retaliate but despite their determination, failed.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Saturday, April 18.
Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:-

We have enjoyed a more active market during the period under review with all issues in good demand throughout. Cements were again the most prominent feature and after changing hands, at the opening at $9 gradually improved to $9.60 closing firm at this rate.
Trading in the Mining section was again very brisk with Antamoks and Demonstrations the popular features. More interest was also taken in the investment section where rates were marked higher.
Hongkong Trams came to business at $10.75/10.90. Hongkong Electrics remained in steady demand at $52½ after sales at $52.75.
Hongkong Telephones (old) were sought for at $25. Hongkong
Lands had ready buyers, at $32.
Among the minor issues, Cements were in great demand after the opening and were dealt in at $9/9.60 for cash and corresponding rates for forward deliveries. Hotels were also strong with unsatisfied buyers at $4.60 at the close. China Providents (old) could be placed at $1.20. China Lights (old) showed renewed strength with buyers at $10.50 but scrips, however, were scarce. Mining shares continued to attract more attention and a good business was done in Antamoks at $2.05/2.35.
Demonstrations were wanted at the close at 70 cts. cash and 72 cts. June. United Paracales were put through at 66 cts./74 cts.
Bagulo Golds were enquired for at 27 cts. Benguet Explorations had sales reported at 19 cts. Sterling counters were much easier with Hongkong Banks on offer at $1540. Unions suffered a decline and were sold as low as $500. The tone of the market at the close is firm and appears to be working higher.

Business during the week has been done at the following prices:-

H. K. Bapks, $1545/1550.
Unions, $500/540-
Antamoks, $2.05/2.35.

SILVER MARKET IN LONDON

London, Apr. 18.
Stimulated by hopes in connection with the Sino-American silver talks, a speculative buying wave carried up silver a further ¼ for "Spot" and 1/16 for "Forward" today, when it is estimated that India took 3,000,000 ounces and it is believed that the Chinese Government appeared as the chief seller.

The speculative position is now estimated to amount to 15 to 20 million ounces, and apart from some purchases for shipment to India, it is thought that there are few genuine buyers about, and since the speculative demand has been met with genuine selling, it is suggested that the bull position may well be vulnerable.

Authoritative opinion is acceptable as regards the chances of the Sino-American discussion resulting in the return of China to the silver standard at the present level, considering that the highest price at which she could repurchase the necessary silver would be 17½.

TIN QUOTA CHANGE NOT EXPECTED

London, Apr. 18.
London tin circles do not anticipate that Wednesday's meeting of the International Tin Council at The Hague will result in any change in the quota, believing that only the renewal of restriction and the questions of Siam and the Belgian Congo will be discussed.

It is considered yet too early properly to review the workings of the 85 per cent. quota, particularly as regards how far Bolivia will be able to make up leeway.
Consequently it is thought that the quota question will be left for a later meeting.

On the way down your lifeboard will be as you wish, quiet or hectic for the E. & A. will honour every wish.

And by the way, there is no additional charge for Deck Cabins and there is of course a Sun Deck swimming pool, an Orchestra and a fine Laundry.

A Surgeon and Stewards are at your disposal and last but not least—we had almost forgotten—the cuisine will set you listening eagerly for the Gong.
